Professional Discipline

Austin Welch represents a wide range of professionals facing disciplinary and regulatory proceedings. He has particular strength and experience in representing doctors in proceedings brought by the GMC at the Medical Practitioners Tribunal Service. Austin is regularly instructed by doctors in fitness to practice hearings and interim order hearings.

Austin has represented police officers in misconduct hearings and officers who have been charged with criminal offences. Austin has also represented professional athletes in disciplinary proceedings before the National Anti-Doping Panel in proceedings brought by the UK Anti-Doping.

Austin is recognised by the leading legal directories as being a leading junior in the field of inquests and public inquiries. He has represented medical professionals and police officers in a number of high profile and complex inquests and public inquiries.

Notable Cases:

R v D – Junior Counsel representing a retired police officer being prosecuted for perverting the course of justice in relation to the alleged Hillsborough “cover-up.”

GMC v Dr P – Represented a consultant who had falsified professional references when applying for a promotion. A short suspension was imposed.
