

Bob Elias is a criminal practitioner and Class 4 Prosecutor, with an equal split between prosecuting and defending.

Bob has been involved in various fraud matters including acting as a leading Junior for the defence in R v Awan and other, the leading Customs Diversion Fraud case.

Bob is currently preparing a fraud involving allegations of corruption by civilian employees of the Greater Manchester Police Printing Department.

NOTABLE CASES

R v Dickinson – Prosecution Counsel – the longest and most complex single defendant murder case tried on the Northern Circuit

R v Iqbal – Prosecution Counsel – attempted murder of “inconvenient” girlfriend whom was hit by a moving car

R v Turner – Defence Counsel – internet grooming of adolescent girls followed by their abduction and rape

R v Hussain – Defence Counsel – drug dealing and alleged rape of drug-addict

R v Ellis – Defence Counsel – Teacher who supervised a fatal plunge pool expedition - conviction of manslaughter

R v Blackpool Bus and Tram Company – Defence Counsel – death of a bus driver knocked down at bus depot breach Health & Safety regulations

CONTACT DETAILS

Email:

bob.elias@lincolnhousechambers.com

Telephone:

0161 832 5701

PRACTICE AREAS

Criminal Law