

Neil Fryman joined Lincoln House in 2008, after having developed a considerable reputation as an effective advocate in heavyweight criminal whilst practising from Peel Court Chambers since 1989.

Over the last twenty years, Neil has practised solely in crime and has increasingly specialised in substantial multi-handed conspiracy matters of significant gravity and public interest. Neil has a healthy mixture of both prosecution and defence work.

Neil is a member of the Northern Circuit and of the Criminal Bar Association and is a Grade 4 prosecutor (2007).

Neil deals with cases involving the Serious Organised Crime Agency (S.O.C.A) on a very regular basis.

Neil's practice focusses on, but is not limited to, offences such as murder, firearms, drugs, serious violence, people trafficking, serious sexual offences and robbery.
