

Lucy is a specialist criminal practitioner who has experience in acting for both the Prosecution and Defence. She is often instructed in complex and serious cases where there are multiple defendants and allegations of murder, attempted murder, violence, large-scale drugs conspiracies, serious sexual offending and high value fraud offences.

Lucy regularly appears in cases involving vulnerable individuals. She has represented children who have been charged in proceedings before the Crown Court for allegations of sexual offending, drug dealing, the use of weapons and acts of violence. Conversely, Lucy has experience of both Defending and Prosecuting in cases across the spectrum of criminal law and where the Complainant or a witness is a child.

Lucy always adopts a meticulous approach to case preparation. She is a robust and versatile advocate who strives to do the best for both her professional and lay client.
